Osaamistavoitteet:

Business Talk:

By the end of the course, students are able to:

- define and demonstrate the use and internalization of vocabulary and specialized terms related to various business topics in a socially appropriate way
- discuss general business-related topics with a degree of fluency
- discuss clear viewpoints on topics related to business plans
- demonstrate the ability to function in meetings and negotiations
- demonstrate the ability to hold a presentation with a good degree of fluency
- write a short-version business plan

Business Talk (International):

By the end of the course, you will

- understand the potential benefits and pitfalls of studying abroad
- have a good range of vocabulary connected with everyday life and study in a foreign country
- be able to formulate a proposal for transforming the higher education system to foster a smart, sustainable and inclusive society
- be able to analyse and evaluate similarities and differences in academic study cultures.

Business Talk (Activation)

By the end of the course, students are able to:

- understand clearly-spoken English on a range of topics discussed in class
- participate in pairwork discussion of familiar everyday topics
- describe your own language learning style, with reference to a variety of learning strategies presented in class
- self-evaluate objectively, and describe plans for future learning

Sisältö:

Business Talk:

The course will have a focus on verbal skills and the vocabulary of various business-related topics. Active participation is mandatory. The course includes 14 classroom sessions. Each classroom session is followed by homework which must be completed before the next session. The homework lessons will include vocabulary exercises, grammar and preparation notes for the next session. Social skills, small talk skills, the basics of intercultural communication skills and pronunciation will be practiced in class. The language of meetings and the skills of negotiating will also be practiced in class. Presentation skills will be practiced and a final presentation will be held. Your presentation should be prepared and developed throughout the duration of the course. A short-version Business Plan will be written.

Business Talk (International):

The course involves collaborative work between Finnish and international students, carried out by students in groups of five in the form of three projects on the following topics:

- i) the pros and cons of participating in a study exchange
- ii) education towards facing the challenges in tomorrow's world
- iii) academic learning cultures.

In addition, course requirements include a formal write-up of one of the projects. The write-up should be about 1500 words in length and should include a comprehensive references section.

Business Talk (Activation):

Easy communication tasks are provided to help you activate your use of English; you will spend a lot of time in class interacting in English with your classmates, in pairs or in small groups. Learning to learn is an important theme throughout the course, too; you will hear about a variety of alternative learning strategies (including some developed for dyslexics), and have opportunities to try them out. To help you reach an understanding of the learning strategies that work best for you, you will have chances to reflect together with your classmates, and compare past and present experiences of language learning.

Toteutustavat:

This course begins with Integrated Text and Lexicon and is followed by the Business Studies part.

Integrated Text and Lexicon is a course with 6 classroom sessions, each followed by a study group session and homework. At the end, students attend an exam session.

Following the exam session the course will continue with the introductory session of Business Studies. At this introductory session, students will receive study group packages 1-3. Students will complete the packages within their group and individually. The study group sessions are followed by a feedback session with the teacher or a virtual feedback session/method. Students will study for one more week and then attend an exam session. At the exam session they will receive study group packages 4-6. The process will be repeated and at the second exam session the students will receive study group packages 7-9 which will also be tested at exam session 3.

In order to receive credit for the course each student will be required to pass all four exams. The schedule follows:

Introductory Session in classroom with teacher

- know the meaning and be able to discuss cross-cultural issues and concepts with a good degree of fluency
- be able to present clear, detailed descriptions and viewpoints on topics related to cross-cultural issues.

Sisältö:

Research has shown that business failures abroad have been and are a result of the inability to understand and adapt to foreign ways of thinking and acting, not technical or professional incompetence. International negotiation comes hand in hand with many challenges which arise from basic cultural differences. Even within one culture successful negotiation is dependent on many interconnected variables. In cross-cultural negotiation, this variety of variables broadens and values disperse. In this course we will examine the concept of culture, the culture triangle, 12 variables in the context of seven cultures among other things. We will review the art of negotiation in general and examine prescribed "ways of doing business" and dimensions of business in different cultures.

The course will have a short study group segment in which students will search for information about doing business and negotiating within a culture of their choice. The study group results will be presented to the class in a presentation.

- establish and maintain audience rapport in the presentation setting
- speak to the audience without relying on pre-written material
- use principles of good slideshow design to complement preparation, subject knowledge and English language skills
- use observation of self and others to continue developing and fine-tuning presentation skills

Sisältö:

The aim of the course is to help students at all levels to better conceptualise what constitutes a good presentation, and to develop their confidence in speaking to and interacting with an audience.

In the early weeks of the course, an emphasis on oral exercises in small groups, including short impromptu speeches, supports development in oral fluency. Students are introduced to and discuss key concepts in presentation giving, for example getting started, topic research, organisation of content, clear articulation, use of visual aids, and audience interaction. Thus, students gain confidence through practice in taking the floor, debating points, and giving peer feedback. In the second half of the course, students prepare, rehearse and give their final presentation, which is a longer, more developed academic speech. After the event, using feedback received from teacher and classmates, students write a self-assessment of their own performance.

Recommendation: BEFORE completion of 902001Y Academic Communication

Osaamistavoitteet:

The general aim is to be able to read more extensive academic - general or discipline-specific - texts with increased confidence and at sufficient speed and to process it critically. More specifically, the aim is to be able to read and understand main ideas of an academic text, scan sufficiently quickly for relevant details, and extract information from the readings.

Learning outcomes: By the end of the course, you are expected to be able to

- apply various reading skills to extract information and to learn content from English readings in academic and professional contexts
- express and summarize contents of text in your own words both orally and in written form with increased confidence
- demonstrate skills in critical reading
- identify how scientific text and academic articles are organized
- distinguish and recognize meaningful parts of academic vocabulary to infer meanings of words

Sisältö:

The course comprises discussion on skills and strategies for reading (metaskills), and demonstration of these skills in pair/group projects and presentations. In addition to this, the students will familiarize themselves and display sufficient academic vocabulary skills, word formation in particular.

While practicing the necessary metaskills the students perform detailed analysis of texts or journal articles in their own field of study.

Ajoitus:

In the Department of Architecture, your English studies take place in the spring term of your first year and continue in the autumn of the second year.

Osaamistavoitteet:

By the end of the course, you are expected

- to demonstrate efficient strategies and methods for developing and maintaining your English proficiency
- to have acquired the core vocabulary required for professional language use in your field
- to have developed oral and written skills and presentation techniques necessary for working in a multicultural environment
- to have extended your language, culture and communication skills at a B2-C1 CEFR level in accordance with your own professional needs.

Sisältö:

In this course, you will focus on developing oral and written English language skills which enable you to follow developments in your own field of architecture and get along in an international, intercultural environment with a sufficient level of proficiency.

These two courses (first year spring term 902011P-38 Tekniikan englanti 3 op and second year autumn term 902011P-39 Tekniikan englanti 3 op) focus on developing professional and academic communication and field-related competences. You will participate in simulated professional events including a project presentation, building/design presentation, presentation of architectural solutions or styles and a case study. One part of the autumn course (902011P-39 Tekniikan englanti) is integrated with your subject course in urban design and planning. In this section you will write an argumentative essay based on a compulsory text from among the reading list you get in the urban design and planning course. The essay will follow the conventions of academic and scientific writing in architecture, which you will get to know in this English course.

In addition, the course helps you to direct your own learning, encouraging you to reflect upon your developing English skills and strategies for effective language learning. A requirement of the course is to document your own learning in a European Language Portfolio \(ELP\), which is a tool for lifelong language and intercultural learning and a means for describing language skills in order to support mobility within Europe.

Ajoitus:

The course is run in both autumn and spring semesters.

Osaamistavoitteet:

Learning outcomes - By the end of the course, you are expected to:

1. have demonstrated oral fluency for dealing with a wide variety of academic, professional and social situations
2. have demonstrated a reasonable degree of spontaneity when expressing your own thoughts and opinions in paired or small group discussions,
3. have demonstrated understanding of others' contributions in paired or small group discussions
4. have initiated self-directed language learning strategies, including personal goal-setting and self-evaluation, to help you learn effectively in future.

Sisältö:

Designed for students with weaker self-confidence as English-speakers, this course aims to facilitate the development of oral fluency. The lessons offer extensive speaking practice in pairs and small groups, activating passive knowledge of vocabulary and structure, and helping you gain confidence in your English speaking and listening skills.

This module offers a comfortable environment in which to practice speaking over a wide range of different oral communication activities, including simulations, role-play, improvised or guided situational dialogue, and free conversation. You will also develop your English communication skills and language learning strategies through self-directed homework activities, on which you will report regularly in class.

Learning Outcomes:

After the course, students are expected to be able to:

- use principles of good presentation structuring for optimal clarity
- establish and maintain audience rapport in the presentation setting
- speak to the audience without relying on pre-written material
- use principles of good slideshow design to complement preparation, subject knowledge and English language skills
- use observation of self and others to continue developing and fine-tuning presentation skills

Sisältö:

The aim of the course is to help students at all levels to better conceptualise what constitutes a good presentation, and to develop their confidence in speaking to and interacting with an audience.

In the early weeks of the course, an emphasis on oral exercises in small groups, including short impromptu speeches, supports development in oral fluency. Students are introduced to and discuss key concepts in presentation giving, for example getting started, topic research, organisation of content, clear articulation, use of visual aids, and audience interaction. Thus, students gain confidence through practice in taking the floor, debating points, and giving peer feedback. In the second half of the course, students prepare, rehearse and give their final presentation, which is a longer, more developed academic speech. After the event, using feedback received from teacher and classmates, students write a self-assessment of their own performance.

Osaamistavoitteet:

Objective: Students will be expected to handle readings on economic and political issues. They will need to be able to contribute their ideas and opinions in various discussion settings. There are relatively few writing tasks; however, the students need to have a good command of the English grammar.

Learning outcomes: By the end of the course students are able to:

- read critically and analyse what they have read by examining and discussing world issues
- discuss and participate actively and effectively in group discussions
- present information in presentations of a pre-selected country.

Sisältö:

This course serves as a map on the world and brings together many related fields of study under the broad categories of geography, political science, economics, and mass communications. At the start of the course each student is asked to choose a region of the world he/she would like to get to know more in-depth.

Järjestämistapa:

See below

Toteutustavat:

In-class discussion lies at the core of this course and is fuelled by the many assigned readings. It is therefore crucial that each student read and interact with any given text before each lesson. Furthermore, students should be prepared to give occasional, brief presentations.
