Admission requirements

Students who have been accepted for the national Asian Studies programme organized by Finnish National University Network for East and Southeast Asian Studies (www.asianet.fi) have the right to take East and Southeast Asian Studies. Students can complete the Basic Studies in the subject.

Commencement of studies

Students can apply for the programme during the autumn term (for further information, please see www.asianet.fi).

Study guidance

Study guidance is provided by the lecturer of East Asian history, tel. +358-8-553 3327.

Overview of the subject

East and Southeast Asian Studies offers students a chance to become familiar with the region from the perspectives of history, political and social studies, economic science and intercultural communication.

Practical information

East and Southeast Asian Studies is part of the History Sciences. Completed study packages are marked by Olavi K. Fält, Professor of History. Examination results are published on the website of the network (www.asianet.fi). The original transcripts of records for the Asia network are available from Lecturer Juha Saunavaara (History Sciences, room HU 356). Teaching will be arranged yearly according to the programme of the network.
