4. General Description on Studies in the Faculty of Economics and Business Administration

Education and research in the Faculty of Economics and Business Administration is conducted under six departments: Department of Economics, Department of Accounting, Department of International Business, Department of Finance, Department of Management and Department of Marketing. These departments arrange Bachelor's, Master's and Doctoral Degree education in Finnish language in six majors. The faculty also has three international master's degree programmes (120 ECTS) that can be studied completely in English. These programmes are M.Sc. in International Business, M.Sc. in Finance and Economics, and M.Sc. in Financial and Management Accounting. Executive education is organized through two programmes: Executive MBA (studies in Finnish) and MBA (studies in English).

The Faculty supports the development of its surrounding areas and the society at large, by organizing also adult and complementary education in cooperation with companies, Open University and Oulu University Learning and Research Services Unit. In addition, the Faculty personnel are actively involved as experts and consultants in business and other organizations.

Doctoral studies

Oulu Business School offers study opportunities for postgraduate students. Postgraduate students aim at the Doctor of Science (Economics and Business Administration) degree. As their major subject, students may select Management, International Business, Economics, Accounting, Marketing or Finance.

Recognition of prior learning

If the student wishes to apply for crediting of his previous studies towards his degree, the forms and consultation can be obtained from the faculty's student office. As a main rule, the level (basic, intermediate, advanced) and scope (number of ECTS credits) of previous studies must meet the ones in present degree.

Course levels

There are three different levels of courses. The levels can be seen in course codes (i.e. 721210 P).

P stands for basic course

A stands for intermediate course

S stands for advanced course

Generally you can take basic courses without any prerequisites. To attend intermediate courses, you should have completed all basic courses from the same field or have similar previous studies. To attend advanced courses you should have completed the intermediate courses from the same field or have previous intermediate studies similar to intermediate courses. For some courses it is not required to complete all studies from previous level. For example you can take Advanced Management Control after you have completed Management Control course, so you don't have to complete all intermediate courses in accounting before taking it.
